I Surnames

Pioneers of Bendigo

Table of Contents

ILLINGWORTH John Tawse (84)	2
INGLIS James (411)	4
IRVING Isaac	5
IRWIN Thomas (43)	6

ILLINGWORTH John Tawse (84)

OBITUARY. MR. J. T. ILLINGWORTH, J. P. DIES IN TASMANIA.

The Bendigo Independent (Vic. : 1891 - 1918) Monday 1 April 1907 p 3 Article

OBITUARY MR. J. T. ILLINGWORTH, J.P. DIES IN TASMANIA.

The sad news reached Bendigo on Saturday by cable from Hobart, that Mr. J. T. Illingworth, J.P., of Golden Square, had passed quietly away at the Imperial Hotel, Liverpool street, that morning.

It will be remembered that on May 12th last Mr Illingworth lost his wife, separation affecting him deeply. He sold out of the City Brewery about the end of last year, and as he did not feel too well - he supposed he was suffering from indigestion

- he decided to take a trip lo Hobart. He left about a fortnight ago, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Robinson. It was his intention to go to the hotel at the springs, about half-way up Mt Wellington and rest, in the clear, rarefied air there for a week or two. But he was never able to carry out his intention.

About nine days ago he wired to his stepdaughter (Mrs. Vernon Rymer, of Forest street) stating that he was very ill. Mrs. Rymer received another wire on Thursday night, intimating that he was not getting any better, and on Saturday morning she received another message announcing his death.

The deceased was a native of Aberdeen, Scotland, and was in his 72nd year. When only 13 years old he joined the ship Heather Belle and remained on her for three or four years. In 1853 he joined in the rush to the Port Phillip gold fields, and in due course landed in Melbourne. He immediately made his way to Bendigo, where he worked with pick and shovel with varying success for a time in the alluvial diggings at White Hills.

In 1857 he turned his attention to the brewing business, and took a position in Sayer's brewery. He spent seven years there, and also seven years at a brewery at Sailor's Gully. A three-year holiday in Scotland followed and on his return, he became a member of the Bendigo Stock Exchange. He, however, was unsuccessful and, as he was often heard to say afterwards "had to take his coat off again." He then secured an appointment at Thunder's Brewery and afterwards returned to the Sailor's Gully brewery.

In 1879 he entered into partnership with Mr. W. Johnson, and with him carried on the City Brewery until Mr. Johnson's death. He then became sole proprietor, and carried it on till about a month ago. when he disposed of his interest. Of late years he again speculated in mining shaves and held shares in a number of companies.

For some years he was a member of the Marong Council, and filled the presidential chair. He was a justice of the peace, and usually sat at the City Court on Saturdays.

Mr. Illingworth married his late wife, who was the widow of the late Mr. Robt. Charlton of Sebastian, in 1882 and leaves one daughter, Miss. Isabella Illingworth, who is at present on a tour of Europe with Mr. and Mrs. Anthony, the latter, like Mrs Rymer, being a step daughter. A cable was sent to Mr Anthony on Saturday asking him to break the news to Mrs. Anthony and Miss Illingworth. The deceased also leaves a sister, Mrs. Robinson at present in Hobart, and several sisters in Scotland.

The remains will be brought to Melbourne from Tasmania by the Loongana on Wednesday and the interment will take place in Bendigo at a time to be advertised. With kindly thoughtfulness Mr. Rymer cabled to several Bendigonians at present in Hobart and asked them to visit Mrs. Robinson in her time of trouble, and word has been received that they have done so.

White Hills Cemetery MON C3

INGLIS James (411)

DEATH OF MR. JAMES INGLIS, OF LONG GULLY.

Bendigo Advertiser (Vic. : 1855 - 1918) Monday 10 November 1884 p 2 Article

DEATH OF MR. JAMES INGLIS, OF LONG GULLY.

The numerous friends and acquaintances of Mr. James Inglis, of Long Gully, will learn of his death with sincere regret. He was genial and kind-hearted to a fault, and everybody who knew him will have a good word to say concerning him now that he has gone. Added to the good qualities that he possessed, is the fact that Mr. Inglis was an old Bendigonian, which will remind everybody of the painful truth that the pioneers of the goldfield are gradually leaving Bendigo to the younger generation which is to occupy their places.

Mr. Inglis was a resident of Bendigo for thirty years. He was born in Scotland, and at the time of his death was 58 years of age. For fifteen years he carried on business as a general storekeeper at the White Hills, and for a corresponding period of time he has carried on a similar business in Long Gully, where he took the premises previously occupied by Mr. Creeth.

Mr. Inglis invested in mining, and at one time was accounted wealthy, but his generous disposition was rather against the accumulation of wealth than otherwise. He did not take any prominent part in public affairs excepting on the occasions of elections, when he always took a liberal side.

He became ill about a fortnight or three weeks ago, but was able to go to the Miners' Association Sports on Wednesday week. On the following day he was obliged to take to his bed, and suffered much pain from a gathering in the head. Dr. Hugh Boyd was in attendance upon him, and among his more intimate friends who visited him was Mr. Webb, of the Commercial Hotel, who has been acquainted with him during his entire career on Bendigo. His illness became serious last week and resulted in his death just before seven o'clock last evening.

Mr. Inglis leaves a widow, but no family. He has two brothers, John and Andrew, living, and the former, who resides in Melbourne, visited him a few days ago. The funeral is announced to take place on Tuesday at three o'clock, when the burial will take place according to the forms of the Presbyterian Church, of which the deceased was a member.

Bendigo Cemetery MON C3

IRVING Isaac (473)

Photo not included in original photo compilation. One of six photos attached to the original owned by Sandhurst Trustees.

DEATHS OF OLD BENDIGONIANS.

Bendigo Advertiser (Vic. : 1855 - 1918) Monday 10 January 1887 p 3 Article

DEATHS OF OLD BENDIGONIANS.

It is with regret that we have to record the death of three old Bendigonians, whose ranks are rapidly thinning. An old and much esteemed resident of this city, Mr Isaac Irving died in the Bendigo Hospital at eleven o'clock yesterday morning. Deceased was 52 years of age, and a native of Cumberland, England, where he followed the profession of an engineer.

In July, 1857, the deceased came direct from Liverpool to Sandhurst, and has resided here ever since. He was formerly one of the partners in the firm of Espie, Bradish and Arundale at the foundry (Victoria Foundry), which is now the property oi Mr A. Harkness, Since the dissolution of this firm he has followed his occupation in Sandhurst.

For some time past the deceased has been subject to pleurisy, and had been attended by Dr Hinchcliff, who performed several operations on him. The progress of the disease appeared to be very rapid, however, during the past few weeks, and on Friday last it was thought necessary to send him to the hospital, where he was taken by Mr W. Hemming and Mr A. Lloyd, of the cattle yards. It is thought that the oppressive weather hastened his end.

The deceased leaves three brothers, the eldest at whom is foreman at Harkness's foundry, and the others are also engaged there. Mrs Nevinson, relict of the late Mr Nevinson, of Laanecoorie, is also a sister of the deceased, and they, along with several very old residents of View Point, where he resided for many years, will sincerely regret the loss of one who was of a genial spirit and a warm-hearted friend.

The funeral will take place tomorrow, and the remains of the deceased will be interred in the Sandhurst Cemetery.

Bendigo Cemetery MON D7.

IRWIN Thomas (43)

THE BENDIGO ADVERTISER (PUBLISHED DAILY.) PROGRESSION, OUR RIGHTS, AND OUR RESOURCES. SANDHURST, TUESDAY, SEPT. 25, 1877. | RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION IN STATE SCHOOLS.

Bendigo Advertiser (Vic. : 1855 - 1918) Tuesday 25 September 1877 p 2 Article

DEATH IN THE HOSPITAL.

A great many old Bendigonians will be sorry to hear of the death, in the hospital, late on Sunday night, of Mr. Thomas Irwin, aged 53. He was admitted on the 19th instant, and died from disease of the kidneys, from which he had been suffering for some time. He had been engaged in the brewing interest for some years, and for a long time past had been in the employ of Messrs. Cohn Bros, as a driver.

Bendigo Cemetery MON A1