

Q Surnames

Pioneers of Bendigo

Table of Contents

QUIN Charles (272).....	2
QUIN James Gatt (30) .....	4

QUIN Charles (272)

Brother of James Gatt Quin.

In partnership with his brother before continuing in business as a Mining Manager.

No title

The Bendigo Independent (Vic. : 1891 - 1918)

Wednesday 28 August 1901 p 2 Article

.....

(James Gatt Quin) and his brother, Mr. Charles Quin, were legal managers, and during the great Bendigo "excitement" of 1870-2 they had a great number of companies in their office. The legal managing business was, in fact, one of the largest at the time in Bendigo, or Australia.

.....

Family Notices

The Bendigo Independent (Vic. : 1891 - 1918) Tuesday 3 January 1893 p 4 Family Notices

THE Friends of MR. CHARLES QUIN are respectfully invited to follow the remains of his late beloved Wife to the White Hills Cemetery. Funeral to move from the Bendigo Railway Station on arrival of train due 4.25 from Melbourne this day.

William H OAKLEY Undertaker Bridge-Street.

Sarah QUIN buried at White Hills Cemetery MON 11 Buried 3.1.1893

Historic Rates Index

1869 – 1871 Charles Quin (Miner) California Road.

1872 Charles and James Quin (Managers) Office in Pall Mall.

!872 – 1889 Charles Quin, Raglan Street/ Epsom Flat.

(Mining Manager / Legal Manager / Company Manager / Broker)

In 1888 Charles Quin, mining manager, was operating from an office at 22A market Buildings, Market St. Melbourne. When his wife Sarah died in 1893, Charles and Sarah were living at 7 Elm Grove, Windsor.

In the years following Sarah's death, Charles was involved in a series of mining ventures at places as diverse as Colac, Victoria; Nelligan NSW; Tasmania and NE Victoria.

After 1897 there are no further records found and despite further research, no conclusive evidence could be located of his death in either Australia or New Zealand.

MINING MEETINGS. PASSBY TRIBUTE COMPANY (Registered)

Article - Bendigo Advertiser (Vic. : 1855 - 1918) Wednesday 2 March 1870

PASSBY TRIBUTE COMPANY (Registered)

The general meeting of shareholders in this company was held at (he office of the manager (Mr Charles Quin), Beehive Chambers, on Monday afternoon. Mr Jury occupied the chair, and there were six shareholders present representing 5678 shares, out of 8,000.

PANDORA TRIBUTE COMPANY

Article - Bendigo Advertiser (Vic. : 1855 - 1918) Thursday 31 August 1871

PANDORA. TRIBUTE COMPANY

The half-yearly meeting of the Pandora Tribute Company was held at the office of Mr. Charles Quin, Victoria Hotel, on Tuesday. There were 9,650 shares represented.

QUIN James Gatt (30)

THE BENDIGO ADVERTISER. \(PUBLISHED DAILY.\) PROGRESSION, OUR RIGHTS AND OUR RESOURCES. | BENDIGO, TUESDAY, AUGUST 27, 1901. MAYORAL ELECTIONS.

Bendigo Advertiser (Vic. : 1855 - 1918) Tuesday 27 August 1901 p 2 Article

DEATH OF MR. JAS. G. QUIN. At his residence, Hope-street, Mr. Jas. G. Quin passed away, surrounded by all the members of his family save one who is in Western Australia, at 12.45 this morning. The cause of death was diabetes, for which he had been treated by Dr. Atkinson.

Mr. Quin was 68 years of age, and a native of Annan, Dumfriesshires, Scotland, and ranked amongst the pioneers of Bendigo. Arriving on this field in 1855, he directed his attention to digging, but met with indifferent fortune. He was a stonecutter by trade, which occupation he followed for some years, being a partner with Mr. P. Finn. Upon the dissolution of partnership Mr. Quin assumed the custodianship of the Masonic Hall, and also acted as secretary to the Rechabites, Star of Bendigo Tent.

He left a family of eight, viz., Messrs. W. and R. Quin, both in the employ of Messrs. P. Finn and Co.; Mrs. Ladson, wife of Mr. G. Ladson, farmer, Thoona; Mr. Jas. Quin an engine driver at the Great Boulder mine, W.A.; Miss Alice Quin, nurse, late matron of the Swan Hill Hospital; Mr. Chas. Quin, compositor, Inglewood "Advertiser;" Misses Effie and Millicent Quin, teachers at the Central State School, and Miss Annie Quin, teacher at the Avoca State School.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The deceased gentleman was a prominent member of the order of Freemasons, and for many years acted as tyler to the Golden and Corinthian and Zenith lodges. He was a man of sterling principles, upright and honorable to a degree, and his death will be sincerely regretted by a wide circle of friends.

Bendigo Cemetery MON A4

No title

The Bendigo Independent (Vic. : 1891 - 1918) Wednesday 28 August 1901 p 2 Article

Death of Mr. James G Quin. The friends of Mr. Jas, G. Quin will regret to hear of his demise, which occurred from diabetes at his Residence, in Hope street, at an early hour yesterday morning. His health has been failing for some time, but the ailment only developed seriously about three weeks ago.

Mr, Quin, who was 68 years of age, was born in Annan, Dumfriesshires, and ranked amongst the old pioneers of Bendigo. He arrived in this field in 1855, and followed the calling of a digger, but found few big nuggets. He was a stonecutter by trade, and for a number of years was a partner with Mr. P. Finn.

Prior to that he and his brother, Mr. Charles Quin, were legal managers, and during the great Bendigo "excitement" of 1870-2 they had a great number of companies in their office. The legal managing business was, in fact, one of the largest at the time in Bendigo, or Australia.

About 20 years ago Mr, James Quin took the position of caretaker to the Masonic Hall, and was also secretary to the Rechabites Star of Bendigo Tent. For a long time he was an active member of the old Temperance Fire Brigade, and up to his death was an honorary member of the Bendigo Brigade.

He leaves a family of eight, viz; Mr. W and R. Quin, both in the employ of Mr. P Finn, Mrs; Lawson, wife of Mr. G. Lawson, farmer, of Thoona, Mr. J. Quin an engine driver at the Great Boulder mine, W. A., Miss Alice Quin, nurse and late matron of the Swan Hill Hospital, Mr. Charles Quin, compositor on the Inglewood Advertiser, and the Misses Effie and Millicent Quin, teachers at the Central State school. Great sympathy is felt for them in their bereavement.

The deceased gentleman was a prominent member of the Freemasons, and for many years tyler of the Golden and Corinthian and Zenith Lodges. He was a man of sterling principles, upright and honorable to a degree, and his death will be sincerely regretted by a large circle of friends. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock this morning, and at the request of the deceased will be carried out privately.